A Horse's Hands and Feet.

The horse never puts his heel on the ground, nor even the ball of his foot. He stands up on the very tips of his toes, and this is, in part, the reason why he can trot so fast. Dobbins' heels are half way up his hind legs, and what we call his knees are really his wrists. The part corresponding to the upper arm is short and is so embedded in the muscles of the shoulder that the elbow comes next the body, but the horse has only one digit to each limb, and the wrist bones are comparatively small. The so called ankle, then, is the knuckle, where the digit joins the hand or the foot, and the "foot" is only a single thick finger or toe, with a great nail for a hoof. The lower half of the horse's foreleg is really a gigantic hand, with only the middle finger and a piece out of the middle of the palm, while the corresponding part of his hind leg is a big, single toed foot.—St. Nicholas.

Hints to Public Speakers.

Never refer pityingly to the poor. This brands you at once as a demagogue. Never say anything respectful of corporate wealth. In so doing you lay yourself open to the charge of being a hired man.

Never use slang if you want respectable people to take stock in you. Never use pure English. The masses hate priggishness.

Never talk straight to the point. You will be accused of taking yourself too seriously. Never tell funny stories. They lead to the suspicion of chicanery.

Never praise "our forefathers." Ancestry pride is disgusting. Never appeal to the "sturdy immigrant leaven in our midst." It riles the old families.—Newark News.

Life's Highest Achievement.

It has been said that success consists in getting that at which one aims, and being happy in it. Each one should have an ideal of what is to be the expression of his or her life. If this is attained in some degree such a life may be called successful. Hence, the successful man or woman is the one who has succeeded fairly well in shaping the actual life in accordance with the ideals of life. This requires a strength and persistence that call for continual struggle. It forms the highest achievement of life. Bulwer well says that the man who succeeds above his fellows is the one who early in life clearly discerns his object and toward that object habitually directs his powers.—From "Vital Questions," by Dr. Henry D. Chaplin.

Old Greenwich Village.

Of that part of New York city known as Greenwich village, situated on the lower west side, the Four Track News says: Older as a village site than Fort Amsterdam itself is that of Greenwich village. Here, when Hudson steered the Half Moon through the narrows, was the Indian village of Sappokanican, on a high and healthy spot watered by Bestavar's kill, the same Minetta brook that until late in the last century ran above ground instead of below as now across Union and Washington squares and into the Hudson near Houston street.

French Marriage Restrictions.

It sounds almost incredible, but is none the less a fact, that a Frenchman under twenty-five years of age whose parents are dead and whose grandfather or grandmother is alive cannot enter the married state without the written authority of both or either of them.—Paris Letter to London Post.

Stealing in Either Case.

There is not much difference in the guilt of the man who "kills time" when his employer is absent and the man who steals a dollar from the cash drawer.—Pittsburg Observer.

Looks.

Don't think a man great just because he looks so. Seven dollars in small bills look bigger than a "fifty."—Puck.
